“Farmers Protest”

Mahitha Lall

VELS University of Science and Technology

Introduction

If we think about the farmers our mind develops the sense of food and grains. Because these are the strain because of which we can have our meal. Intro: Even in this fast-moving world, we stop for our basic necessities everyday... Such one necessity is food. But have we ever wondered while having a burger or a bowl of rice about how it came to be?

That person whose hand full of seeds and feet full of mud. Working all day in the burning sun just to drive out the hunger of many. These superheroes go by the name Farmers.

Even in this fast-moving world, we stop for our basic necessities everyday... Such one necessity is food. But have we ever wondered while having a burger or a bowl of rice about how it came to be?

They say with great power... Comes great responsibility That person whose hand full of seeds and feet full of mud. Working all day in the burning sun just to drive out the hunger of many... These superheroes go by the name Farmers

They wake up with the first cock-a-doodle doo. And thus, begins the process cultivation... Ploughing the land until its ready... Fertilizing them. Adding manures and planting seeds... Protecting them however possible from pests and other natural phenomenon's in every way possible ... Just so that we could eat our fill.

But we are so busy caught up in our own lives. How many of us think about how they live? What they eat... Are they even earning? What is the status of the farmers today? We often come across so many news about farmers committing suicides and so on... And what we do??

Feeling sad. Save farmers. This is all we do... And go on with our routine... Instead of getting out of this and doing something that brings about a positive change in their lives

It is to be trusted that “There in boundary dying an army man and there's dying a yeoman. It is sad to say that in spite of this our India is palatial.”

And its to be believed that “When the banker says he is broke, and the merchants up in smoke. They forget that it's the farmer who feeds them all. It would put them to test, if farmers took a rest. Then they had known that it's the farmer who feed them all.”

FARMERS PROTEST

The issue arise here is why farmers are protesting? The answer to this is they are in a very bad situation now. Because the Prime Minister is telling them to compromise with them with their land areas.
